Directory Services
Welcome to ANXnet
The ANX@ Directory Services ("the directory") acts as the key enabler for collaborative on-line work environments. The directory is comprised of users, groups and companies and serves as a common point for authentication within the ANX@ Portal ("the portal") and access to applications hosted within the portal.
There are six primary sections within the directory:

- Search allows you to find people and companies by name or location. You may also perform a category search to find a listing of companies offering a particular service.
- User Registration allows you to submit a new user registration form to establish a valid username and password for access to collaborative applications within the portal.
- Group Creation allows users who have an account within the portal to create public or private grouping of users. These groups may be used to control access within the portal's collaborative applications.
- User Profile Update allows users who have an account within the portal to update their information.
- Group Update allows group leaders or group members to update group information.
- Advertising provides information about advertising within the portal.

Welcome to ANXnet

The Document Repository enables you to upload and store documents on the ANX® Portal server ("the server") instead of keeping files locally. Once you have signed in to the ANX® Portal you will see a file directory structure containing your folders and files. You will be able to navigate through folders that you have created, in addition to navigating through folders that other ANX® Portal users have given you permission to see.

The Document Repository will manage all your documents for you. Once uploaded to the server, your documents are encrypted to ensure complete protection. Your documents are backed-up regularly so you can be assured you will always have access to your documents when you need them.

There are four primary pages within the Document Repository:

- View Files displays your file directory structure containing your folders and files. From this page, you can upload new documents to the repository, download documents from the repository, create new folders and delete documents from the repository.
- Search Files allows you to search for files based on keywords. You enter keywords when you upload a document so that you can search for your document at a later date.
- Activity Log keeps track of the files uploaded and downloaded, listing the date, time, and location of file.

Community Services provides you with areas to read about or exchange information with other ANX@ Portal users.

There are three services available:

- User Forums allow you to participate in threaded discussion groups on a wide variety of topics. You can share thoughts with an interested community of self-selected members. Each forum can be public or private, and private forums may only be visible to portal users who are authorized to participate in the forum.
- Bulletin Boards provide you with non-interactive information for community browsing.
- ANX@ Library provides you with documents that are available for download. Examples of documents within the ANX@ Library are white papers on IPsec, Tel 2 and application user manuals. The library may also include software updates, corrections, and demonstrations.

Big Three On-Line Platform Part of Business Deconstruction
2/29/2000 The Big Three's decision to combine their on-line procurement platform foreshadows the next generation of business-to-business e-commerce, says a management consulting firm today. Cross-industry supply networks, like the one Ford, GM and DaimlerChrysler just formed, represent a critical and inevitable event in business-to-business e-commerce, says Thomas Wurster, SVP at The Boston Consulting Group. The only hurdle to more of these relationships -- and it's not a big hurdle at all -- is that companies and industries agree to common technological communications standards to make those networks more efficient, he says.

"Ford, GM and DaimlerChrysler are deconstructing their own businesses," adds Philip Evans, another SVP at the group. "They are taking a valuable information asset from their businesses -- their combined purchasing buy of more than $160 billion -- and leveraging it in a creative way to bring more value out of it. It is not to say, however, that Ford and GM deconstruct themselves either."

Figure 1. The effect of the number of iterations on the accuracy of the proposed algorithm. The accuracy of the proposed algorithm is plotted against the number of iterations for different values of α and β . The accuracy of the proposed algorithm increases with the number of iterations and reaches a plateau. The accuracy of the proposed algorithm is higher for larger values of α and β .

The CSP Page displays network outage reporting and provides information pertaining to ANX@ Certified Service Providers.

There are three sections within the CSP Page:

- Certification Verification is where you will find information relating to continued compliance with ANX@ certification as a Certified Service Provider.
- ANX@ Outage is where you provide reports for all scheduled and unscheduled interruptions to the ANX@ system. A bulletin board allows ANX@ Portal users to check outage information.
- ANX@ Performance Test Tool: you may download the final version of PANXTOOL version 1.7 from here.
